

ROAD RACING & FLAT TRACK APPLICATION

Build.Train.Race. was established in 2019 to empower more women to not only enter the world of Motorsports but to provide them the tools and experience needed to be successful as builders and racers. Royal Enfield has partnered with the premiere series in both Flat Track and Road Racing to ensure maximum visibility to the BTR efforts. Since it's inception BTR has turned every day riders into builders and racers.

Are you interested in joining the Build.Train.Race. programs for 2022? This season we are looking for riders that have some level of experience in either to join the existing participants that are joining us again next year. In the past seasons we have started with complete beginners but since we will have some riders returning to the program for 2022, this season we are seeking applicants who have some experience in the discipline they are applying for. If you aren't sure of you have the appropriate level of experience, just apply anyway!

Below you will find a series of questions we put together to get to know you more. You will need to answer each question thoroughly and provide a two minute video. Submit both files to breep@royalenfield.com before December 1st, 2021.
